

RSS macro

Working with the RSS macro

You can set up your wiki page to be able to broadcast an RSS feed from a selected URL by using this macro within any of the wiki pages you choose.

Adding the RSS Feed macro

To add the RSS feed macro, go into the Edit screen for the selected page. When you locate the position on the page where you want to place the RSS feed, go to "+ Insert", then "Other macros", then enter "RSS" into the search box on the upper right. The selections will filter down to only show the RSS macro as a selection. Click on the RSS macro. The screen will change to "Insert 'RSS Feed' Macro". The screen includes the following options:

- RSS Feed URL - enter the URL for the RSS feed that you wish to feature
- Maximum Number of entries - this is the maximum number of RSS entries that will be displayed on the page
- Show Item Titles Only (checkbox) - when checked, the RSS entries will only show the titles (and not the text); when unchecked, the RSS entries will show the text along with the titles of the RSS feeds
- Show Name/Title of RSS Feed (checkbox) - when checked, the title of the RSS feed will appear on the page along with the feeds; when unchecked, the RSS feed will not show the title

Once you select the options you wish to have, you can click "Preview" to see a preview of what the RSS feed will look like on the page.

When you are finished setting up the options of the macro, click on "Insert" and it will place the RSS feed macro on the page. The macro will appear as a gray box on the page with a scroll and the words "RSS Feed" along with the URL of the feed.

NOTE: You can click on "Preview" for the edit mode and it will show you a preview of the page with the RSS macro embedded and functioning.
